

2008 AURORA HOME SHOW

SNAP AURORA

The Aurora Home Show was another huge success this year. The three day event was held at the Aurora Community Centre, the town and surrounding areas came out in full force to experience over 150 exhibitors with hundreds of products and services under one roof. Although the sun was shining outdoors the attendance was significant throughout the weekend. There were many highlights from the event, the environmental theme of "how green can you go?" helped the community focus on potential green initiatives they can undertake to reduce their overall environmental footprint! The Designer Home was a very popular feature with the public. If you never had the chance to experience this year's event, the Home Show is an annual event so be sure to mark it in your calendar for next year, you can always find out community events at the Chamber of Commerce website www.aurorachamber.ca.
